Coming to Lyon

By train

Located at the crossroads of Europe, the city of Lyon provides excellent connectivity.

The heart of Lyon is connected to all major French cities by High Speed Train (TGV) or express lines, through the three stations: Perrache, Part-Dieu and Lyon-Saint-Exupéry. Part-Dieu railway station has more international connections than any other station in France, with direct lines to Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and Spain.

As part of its commitments to more sustainable tourism, the tourist office encourages the destination's visitors to come by train and use public and non-motorised transport modes during their stay.

By plane

France's fourth largest airport, Lyon Saint-Exupéry is connected to more than 130 global destinations, including Montreal, Dubai and Doha with direct flights.

This fully interconnected airport is a multi-modal hub, offering rapid and easy access by motorways and TGV high-speed rail.

As a holder of ISO 14001 certification since 2020, it is committed to minimizing its environmental footprint, through actions including carbon emissions reduction, green energy production, responsible water consumption, zero pesticide use and waste recycling.

The Rhônexpress shuttle links the airport to the city centre in 30 minutes.

By road

Located in the heart of Europe, and connected to the main European motorways, Lyon is easily accessed by car from France and Europe. The city has more than 50 public car parks, with the main operators being LPA, Vinci and QPark.

EV charging stations are also available in some hotels in the metropolitan area. (see p.47)

Moving around Lyon

Lyon Public Transport (TCL)

Since 2025, the expanded TCL public transport system has covered the entire Rhône department and includes over 600 bus lines spanning six fare zones. The Vélo'v cycle hire service has various options, including a single journey and a whole day.

Lyon's commitment to sustainable tourism

Lyon is ranked 8th in the 2025 GDS-Index, reflecting its commitments and the actions taken to create a virtuous dynamic in the territory.

Beyond caring for the environment, it involves promoting well-being for residents and visitors, accessibility for all, and an authentic experience of Lyon.

With this in mind, the Greater Lyon Authority and the Greater Lyon Tourist Office are engaged in several main areas:

- The Tourist Office provides assistance for tourism providers (accommodation, catering, activities, incoming tourism) to achieve environmental certification.

We also support partner organisations with training and awareness-raising actions throughout the year.

- In order to protect residents' quality of life, Lyon promotes its heritage while ensuring that locals and tourists can share the city harmoniously, by carrying out mediation actions for example.

- Lyon involves its residents in thinking about its tourism strategy and future vision, through Tourism & Residents meetings, an Ideas Notebook, and working groups conducted as part of the Lyon Tourism Laboratory.

- Winner of the Access City Award in 2018, the city of Lyon puts accessibility at the heart of its urban experience, so it can be enjoyed by all visitors, whatever their budget and tastes

- Non-motorised travel (including cycling, rollerblading and walking) is encouraged in the Lyon metropolitan area, with more than 1200 km of cycling paths.

The growth of bicycle tourism is a strategic development area for the destination, which lies at the crossroads of two major cycle routes: the ViaRhôna, from Geneva to the Mediterranean, and the Voie Bleue Saône-Moselle, linking Luxembourg and Lyon.

The tourist office deploys the 'Accueil Vélo' quality label (Cyclists welcome) to help identify providers with facilities for bicycle tourists. (see p. 47)

- The Tourist Office is committed to promoting travel by train in Lyon, through targeted actions.

Similarly, visitors are encouraged to use the public transport network or non-motorised modes to get around the city, particularly with the Lyon City Card, a pass for tourists.

- In 2010, Lyon developed the 'Engagé à Lyon' quality label (engaged in Lyon). Unique in France, its aim is to promote a local, environmentally friendly, social and solidarity economy.

- The 'Fabriqué à Lyon' label (made in Lyon) identifies products made or processed locally.

10 ESSENTIAL THINGS TO DO IN LYON

Ascend the hill of Fourvière

Take "la ficelle" (literally 'the string'), as the funicular going up the hill is known, and see Lyon spread out beneath you. A symbolic landmark, the nineteenth-century basilica of Fourvière watches over Lyon and offers visitors a richly decorated interior. Nearby, the ancient theatres and the Lugdunum site reveal the secrets of the Roman city founded in 43 BC.

Travel back in time in the Renaissance district of Vieux Lyon

From the cathedral of Saint-Jean to the townhouses once owned by Lyonnais and Italian merchants, a visit to Vieux Lyon (Old Lyon) is a journey through the 15th and 16th centuries. Its cobbled pedestrian streets are lined with shops and restaurants. Then there are the famous 'traboules'. These passageways through buildings and inner courtyards, linking up parallel streets, are waiting to be explored, with respect for the local residents.

Weave silk in the Croix-Rousse, home of the Canuts

Once inhabited by Lyon's silk-workers, known as 'the Canuts', the Croix-Rousse district reveals its industrial past through 'traboules' and inner courtyards. For a taste of life in this period, make your way to one of the workshops where you can buy a square silk scarf at factory price and learn about silk-making trades.

04

Stroll through the Presqu'île, the heart of Lyon

The peninsula between the Rhône and Saône is the city's beating heart. Its streets, squares and fountains offer a wonderful setting for a stroll to discover Lyon's major landmarks. From Place Bellecour to the Grand Hôtel-Dieu complex, the Théâtre des Célestins and Place des Terreaux, the city centre's main streets are filled with history and enticing shops. Whether you're looking to buy something in a major retail chain or a cosy craft workshop, watch out for the "Made in Lyon" [Fabriqué à Lyon] label!

Enjoy a 'quenelle'* in one of Lyon's "bouchon" restaurants

There's a wide range of specialities to be had in the city's famous bouchons and for a truly authentic experience, look out for the "Bouchon Lyonnais" quality label. It guarantees that restaurants prepare their food in keeping with Lyon's traditions, and regularly serve the classic morning meal known as a "mâchon".

* quenelle: a creamed fish-flavoured soufflé

Meet the best producers at Les Halles Paul Bocuse

Les Halles de Lyon Paul Bocuse is a temple dedicated to gastronomy, and will even take you on a voyage through neighbouring areas to discover their famous terroir products. Because Lyon's excellent reputation in matters of culinary delights also depends on the quality of its regional products, such as the famous Poulet de Bresse and Beaujolais and Côtes-du-Rhône wines. Make the most of the early morning hustle and bustle, and get to taste a piece of Saint-Marcellin cheese or Rosette sausage or stroll through the city's many outdoor markets!

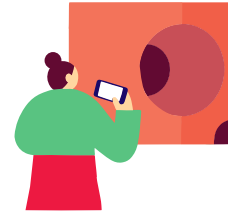

Cycle along the banks of Rhône and Saône

Grab a self-service Velo'v bicycle and head off along the banks of Rhône or Saône to discover their bustling, urban atmosphere. Then set off in search of the city's monuments before enjoying an open-air break on board one of the many barges moored along the river!

Discover Lyon's new face in the Confluence

Take the Navigône, Lyon's river shuttle service, to arrive right in the heart of the Confluence district. After being dominated by industry for centuries, it has been returned to the city's residents as a symbol of green and forward-looking redevelopment. The renovated industrial buildings of the former docks of Rambaud, designed by world-leading architects, offer amazing contrasts of shapes and colours.

Take a break in Tête d'Or park

In the heart of the authentic and upmarket 6th arrondissement, Tête d'Or park has a free zoo, a lake, a botanical garden, and a rose garden with no less than 450 varieties. A green lung of Lyon and France's largest urban park, it contributes to the wonderfully preserved quality of life of a city on a human scale.

See you at the museum

With over 30 museums, Lyon invites you to discover its treasures. Historical, artistic, interactive... With family or friends, let yourself be surprised!

From the masterpieces of the Musée des Beaux-Arts, housed in a former convent, to the fascinating story of the invention of cinema by the Lumière brothers at the Musée Lumière, Lyon's museums offer a variety of unique themes and are included in the Lyon City Card.

A UNESCO city

Lyon has been shaped by more than 2000 years of history. Each part of the city has a unique identity that reflects the city's development over the course of its history. The Historic Site of Lyon, composed of 4 districts, was listed as UNESCO World Heritage sites in 1998, covering an area of 500 hectares.

Fourvière hill

Lyon's oldest hill guards the memory of Lugdunum, a major Roman city. As you walk through the theatres, you can imagine life in the ancient city. Standing proudly on top of the hill, the basilica of Fourvière amazes visitors with its richly decorated interior.

Outside, you can admire the stunning view from the esplanade, and stroll through the Jardins du Rosaire just below, a peaceful green space.

Vieux Lyon

Nestled between Fourvière Hill and the River Saône, Vieux Lyon (Old Lyon) has preserved all the charm of its Renaissance-period streets.

Step back into a time when Lyon hosted fairs that attracted visitors from all over Europe. The hidden traboules (passageways connecting two streets through a building) and inner courtyards hint at the wealth of their former owners.

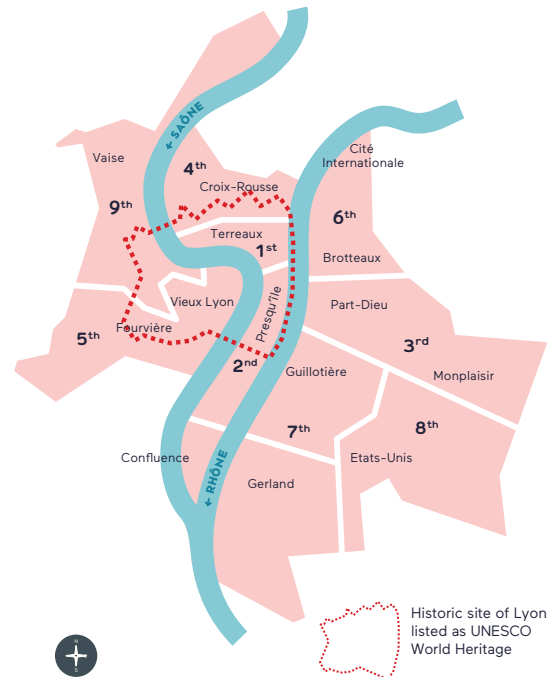

Around the gothic-style Cathedral of Saint Jean, the district's lively streets are filled with restaurants and shops.

The Presqu'île

The heart of Lyon is on the peninsula between the Rhône and Saône, with its shopping streets and luxury boutiques.

From Place Bellecour, Europe's largest pedestrian square, to Place des Terreaux, lined by the City Hall and Museum of Fine Art, the district's nineteenth-century buildings reflect the lavish lifestyles of Lyon's bourgeoisie.

Its iconic landmarks and fountains are illuminated at night, offering a chance to see Lyon in a different light.

Croix-Rousse hill

Lyon's second hill has a long history with silk weaving as the home of the 'Canuts' (Lyon's former silk-workers), who helped make the city a major European centre of textiles. Visitors can explore its many 'traboules' (hidden passageways between streets) and stairways, as they discover the nineteenth-century buildings designed to hold weaving looms.

Past and present come together, with traditional silk workshop tours and shops run by young independent designers, who keep the spirit of the Canuts alive.

Choosing a souvenir from Lyon

– Silk

The city centre was once filled with the sounds of weaving looms operated by the Canuts, as Lyon's silk-workers were known. The silk fabrics they produced were exported throughout Europe.

Today, silk-making remains a central part of Lyon's identity, and there are number of silk workshops where you can learn about nineteenth-century looms and buy authentic Lyonnais silk square scarves !

– A sports souvenir

Are you mad about football, rugby or basketball? Our local teams - Olympique Lyonnais, LOU Rugby and ASVEL - all play in the top leagues of their respective sports.

– Local specialities

Lyon, the Capital of Gastronomy, is all about sharing! Visit the indoor food market Halles de Lyon Paul Bocuse or browse the city's shops to find delicious souvenirs, which can be vacuum packed to take home.

Local charcuterie, cheeses, sweets and chocolates are perfect ideas for food lovers. You could also choose a regional wine (to be enjoyed with moderation).

Find gourmet food shops on page 101.

Lyon is bursting with creativity, particularly on the slopes of Croix-Rousse Hill and in the Presqu'île district, with its young independent designers.

In their shops, you'll find unique or limited-edition accessories, jewellery, clothes and decorative items to remind you of your stay in Lyon.

Keep an eye out for the 'Fabriqué à Lyon' quality label that highlights local creations.

Lyon, capital of gastronomy

"Classic or modern, there is only one kind of cuisine... good cuisine."

Paul Bocuse

The title 'World Capital of Gastronomy' was given to the city in 1935 by Curnonsky, a renowned food critic, who said that the secret of Lyonnaise cuisine was to "leave the flavours of food intact."

Since then, Lyon has kept up its reputation, now offering a dizzying choice of 5000 restaurants, from street food to traditional brasseries, Michelin-starred restaurants and the city's famous bouchons.

Above all, Lyon owes its creativity, variety and quality to the abundance of neighbouring terroirs. Located at the crossroads of regions that produce poultry, game and fish, as well as fruits and vegetables, Lyon has drawn inspiration from local ingredients to create a generous, popular and inventive cuisine.

Chicken from Bresse, fish from La Dombes, cheeses from Auvergne, and fruits and vegetables from the Rhône Valley all play leading roles.

Surrounded by wine-producing regions, Lyon is lucky enough to have vintages that live up to its excellent cuisine. You will find Beaujolais, Côteaux du Lyonnais and Côtes du Rhône on menus everywhere in the city.

Les Mères lyonnaises

Lyon's gastronomic tradition owes much to female chefs known as the Mères Lyonnaises. After working for bourgeois families, in the late eighteenth century, they began to open up their own restaurants, serving homely food.

They returned to centre stage in the 1930s, a time of recession that saw many lose their positions working for the city's affluent families.

Serving Lyonnaise specialities and giving pride of place to regional produce, their restaurants rapidly established themselves as local institutions. The most famous among them, Mère Brazier, went so far as to become the first woman to achieve three stars in the Michelin Guide, for her two restaurants, in 1933!

La mère Brazier

Renowned chefs

As early as Roman times, the city of Lugdunum (as Lyon was then known) had a famous chef named Septimanus.

He was followed by many others. The Mères Lyonnaises took Lyon's gastronomic tradition into a new era. These enterprising women were also keen to pass down their knowledge. Mère Brazier's most well-known apprentice was none other than local legend Paul Bocuse!

Born in 1926 and deceased in 2018, Paul Bocuse left an indelible mark on Lyonnaise and French cuisine. He was named 'Chef of the Century' by Gault & Millau and helped Lyon shine on the world stage. With three stars in the Michelin Guide for more than 50 years, his restaurant Auberge de Collonges continues to draw gourmets from all over France and the world. It is celebrating its centenary in 2024.

Lyon is home to many big names, boasting 16 Michelin-starred restaurants in 2025. It is also a magnet for chefs from around the globe, who blend their influences with classic French cuisine and study at Institut Lyfe, founded by Paul Bocuse.

Vibrant creativity

The weight of tradition and major historical figures has not stifled the creativity of the new generation. Far from it! Chefs and pastry cooks are taking up the baton and offering creative, experimental and surprising cuisine, as they continue to build Lyon's global reputation.

Events like the Lyon Street Food Festival, which is held annually in June, offer a wealth of opportunities for big-name chefs to try fresh approaches. This gathering is France's leading food festival.

Lyon's bouchons

Proud defenders of Lyon's culinary tradition, Lyon's bouchons offer a dining experience like no other!

It is also said, though, that it originated in a service provided in these eateries: the verb 'bouchonner' means to rub down a horse with a 'bouchon' of straw.

Today, no stay in Lyon would be complete without a meal in a bouchon. In a warm, friendly atmosphere, take a seat and tuck into some Lyonnais specialties, as you soak up the local character and charm. Don't be surprised if the chef comes to your table to check if the dishes are to your taste!

Lyonnaise cuisine is built on generously served, homely dishes, made with simple, but quality ingredients. Traditionally, labourers and bosses would eat elbow-to-elbow during their breaks.

Some bouchons still serve a traditional morning meal known as the 'mâchon'.

Historically, it was eaten by Lyon's silk-workers early in the morning, after their first shift of the day was already done. It is made up of local specialties and charcuterie, served with regional wines.

Look out for the logo displayed by certified Bouchons Lyonnais!

This quality label guarantees that you will get traditional cuisine, made with fresh produce, and an authentic experience.

Find the list of certified bouchons on p. 69.

Lyon's markets

Held on the banks of the Saône, the market of Quai Saint-Antoine offers a lovely setting for a stroll by the river with a view of Fourvière hill. It is the perfect place to chat with passionate local producers and taste their wares!

On the Rhône side, the market of Quai Augagneur is held on the banks opposite the Grand Hôtel-Dieu building. Its busy stalls offer a profusion of flavours and colours!

Along Boulevard de la Croix-Rousse, on top of the hill of the same name, you will find Lyon's most iconic market. Held here since the mid-nineteenth century, this long-established market has been popular with local residents for generations.

A temple of Lyonnaise gastronomy, the vast indoor food market Halles de Lyon Paul Bocuse is home to more than 60 producers and restaurants. Exceptional regional produce can be found in this bustling market in the morning, where locals come to stock up for special occasions.

Take a seat at one of the many restaurants or oyster sellers at the end of the morning to enjoy a drink or a meal as you soak up the vibrant atmosphere!

If art and crafts is what you're after, make your way to Quai Romain Rolland on a Sunday morning, where you will find the Marché de la Création!

Things you must taste in Lyon

You may have heard of Lyon's reputation as the Capital of Gastronomy, but once you're seated at the table of a traditional Lyonnais bouchon, what should you order to get a unique and authentic experience?

– Do you have traditional tastes?

Here are the essentials of Lyonnaise cuisine!

Salade lyonnaise: a classic dish! Whet your appetite with this salad of lettuce leaves, hard-boiled egg, croutons and a generous sprinkling of lardons.

Pâté-croûte: this pâté in a pastry crust features various meats, including foie gras, calves' sweetbreads, chicken liver, and more.

Quenelle de brochet sauce Nantua: this is the iconic dish in Lyon! A quenelle is a dumpling made with milk, eggs, flour and butter. The most traditional version includes pike (brochet) and is covered in a Nantua shrimp sauce.

– Perhaps something more adventurous?

With tripe and offal, Lyonnaise cuisine offers plenty of surprises for the taste buds!

Gâteau de foie: try this soufflé made with chicken liver and coated in a tomato coulis.

Tête de veau sauce gribiche: this is a calf's head cut into pieces and cooked in a court-bouillon, served with an egg and mustard sauce.

Tablier de sapeur: this is made with calf's caul (membrane covering the intestine) marinated in wine, which is then breaded and deep-fried.

– Are you vegetarian?

Mention this when you arrive: the restaurant staff will do their best to adapt their offering.

Œufs en meurette: (ask for no lardons): Poached eggs cooked in red wine and onions.

Gratin de ravioles: Borrowed from the neighbouring region of Dauphiné, these ravioli are filled with cheese and herbs.

Cervelle de canuts: literally "silk-workers' brains"; don't worry though, this delicacy is a creamy soft cheese spread seasoned with garlic and herbs!

– A list is available at :

And treat yourself to a praline tart, a classic Lyonnais dessert made with pink pralines and almonds coated in caramelised sugar. All of this goes wonderfully with a 'pot Lyonnais', a 46 cl jug of Beaujolais, Côtes du Rhône or Côteaux du Lyonnais (to be enjoyed with moderation of course).

At the bottom of the hill, the Renaissance town stretches out along the banks of the river Saône. Walk through a few of the narrow streets and the squares and delve into the "traboules" to discover hidden courtyards, galleries and wells.

their labour, and to submit their fabric for inspection.

A day in Beaujolais

In its unspoilt setting 30 minutes north of Lyon, the Beaujolais region reveals its rolling landscapes where each hill you cross reveals a hidden treasure: châteaux, golden stone villages and steep vineyards. An authentic region ideal for wine and food discoveries, but also for cultural visits and walks in the countryside.

Morning

The Beaujolais region is brimming with architectural gems to explore along its 140 km Wine Route. The south is characterised by picturesque golden stone villages and heritage Renaissance châteaux.

Village of Oingt

Listed among the 'Plus Beaux Villages de France', (most beautiful villages in France), this fortified hilltop village takes visitors on a timeless journey. Its narrow medieval streets, listed historic monuments and its artisans are what give it its charm. The unusual aperitivo at the top of the Oingt tower is a timeless experience where culture, heritage, wine and gastronomy come together. This aperitivo is also available at the Prieuré de Salles-Arbuissonnas, remarkable for its Romanesque church and 10th-century cloister, and in other unusual locations.

Eight remarkable châteaux in the region, distinguished by their architecture, history and wines, have joined forces to create a château route offering memorable wine tourism activities: wine and chocolate workshops, exclusive tours of the enclosed plot and French garden, and immersive theatrical tours.

Further information available at:

chateauxenbeaujolais.fr

Lunch at the region's finest bistronomic and gastronomic establishments or at the wine makers who enhance local produce through picnics in the vineyards and the iconic Beaujolais mâchon.

Afternoon

The northern part of the region, better known as Beaujolais des Crus, is home to Europe's largest wine park, prestigious wine châteaux and the iconic summit of Mont Brouilly, a must-see attraction in the UNESCO Beaujolais Geopark.

Mont Brouilly

Rising to 484 metres, Mont Brouilly offers a unique panorama of the vineyards and the Saône valley, where you can enjoy a sunrise breakfast tour. Its soil, composed of blue volcanic rock, gives the Brouilly and Côte de Brouilly appellations their distinctive character, dominated by the protective chapel of Notre Dame des Raisins.

Fleurie

The perfect place for a walk or hike, the village of Fleurie is nestled among the vineyards of the eponymous appellation. Make your way up to the chapel of the Madonna, at the top of the hill overlooking the village, for a stunning view of the rolling Beaujolais countryside.

Hameau Dubœuf in Romanèche-Thorins

This theme park dedicated to vines and wine offers a fun and interactive journey to discover the history of Beaujolais, the richness of the terroir and the techniques used to produce its wines. Combining culture and entertainment, the immersive and captivating shows end with a tasting session.

Sur les hauteurs de Lyon, la Table de la Villa Florentine s'inscrit entre ville haute et basse, ombre et lumière, intérieur et extérieur.

Sous la verrière, la vue s'ouvre sur l'infini. Le restaurant bistrannique s'organise autour d'un grand comptoir, comme un point de rencontre et de passage.

Le Chef Henri Carlier y déploie une cuisine précise, saisonnière et sensible, où le végétal occupe une place centrale.

Overlooking Lyon, the Table de la Villa Florentine restaurant floats midway between earth and sky, light and shade, interior and exterior. The glass roof offers an inspiring view of the sky above. The bistrannique restaurant is centered around a large counter, serving as a meeting and crossing point.

Chef Henri Carlier meticulously curates a seasonal, sensitive cuisine with a focus on plant-based food.
