Lyon's commitment to sustainable tourism

Lyon is ranked 13th in the 2023 GDS-Index, reflecting its commitments and the actions taken to create a virtuous dynamic in the territory.

Beyond caring for the environment, it involves promoting well-being for residents and visitors, accessibility for all, and an authentic experience of Lyon.

With this in mind, the Greater Lyon Authority and the Greater Lyon Tourist Office are engaged in several main areas:

- The Tourist Office provides assistance for tourism providers (accommodation, catering, activities, incoming tourism) to achieve environmental certification, covering up to 80% of costs involved.

We also support partner organisations with training and awareness-raising actions throughout the year.

- In order to protect residents' quality of life, Lyon promotes its heritage while ensuring that locals and tourists can share the city harmoniously, by carrying out mediation actions for example.

- Winner of the Access City Award in 2018, the city of Lyon puts accessibility at the heart of its urban experience, so it can be enjoyed by all visitors, whatever their budget and tastes

- Non-motorised travel (including cycling, rollerblading and walking) is encouraged in the Lyon metropolitan area, with more than 1100 km of cycling paths.

The growth of bicycle tourism is a strategic development area for the destination, which lies at the crossroads of two major cycle routes: the ViaRhôna, from Geneva to the Mediterranean, and the Voie Bleue Saône-Moselle, linking Luxembourg and Lyon.

The tourist office deploys the 'Accueil Vélo' quality label to help identify providers with facilities for bicycle tourists.

- The Tourist Office is committed to promoting travel by train in Lyon, through targeted actions.

Similarly, visitors are encouraged to use the public transport network or non-motorised modes to get around the city, particularly with the Lyon City Card, a pass for tourists.

- In 2010, Lyon developed the 'Engagé à Lyon' quality label (engaged in Lyon). Unique in France, its aim is to promote a local, environmentally friendly, social and solidarity economy.

10 ESSENTIAL THINGS TO DO IN LYON

01 Ascend the hill of Fourvière

Take "la ficelle" (literally 'the string'), as the funicular going up the hill is known, and see Lyon spread out beneath you. A symbolic landmark, the nineteenth-century basilica of Fourvière watches over Lyon and offers visitors a richly decorated interior. Nearby, the ancient theatres and the Lugdunum site reveal the secrets of the Roman city founded in 43 BC.

Travel back in time in the Renaissance district of Vieux-Lyon

From the cathedral of Saint-Jean to the townhouses once owned by Lyonnais and Italian merchants, a visit to Vieux-Lyon (Old Lyon) is a journey through the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Its cobbled pedestrian streets are lined with shops and restaurants. Then there are the famous 'traboules'. These passageways through buildings and inner courtyards, linking up parallel streets, are waiting to be explored, with respect for the local residents.

Weave silk in the Croix-Rousse, home of the Canuts

Once inhabited by Lyon's silk-workers, known as 'the Canuts', the Croix-Rousse district reveals its industrial past through 'traboules' and inner courtyards. For a taste of life in this period, make your way to one of the workshops where you can buy a square silk scarf at factory price and learn about silk-making trades.

04 Stroll through the Presqu'île, the heart of Lyon

The peninsula between the Rhône and Saône is the city's beating heart. Its streets, squares and fountains offer a wonderful setting for a stroll to discover Lyon's major landmarks. ## Enjoy a 'quenelle'* in one of Lyon's "bouchon" restaurants

There's a wide range of specialities to be had in the city's famous bouchons and for a truly authentic experience, look out for the "Bouchon Lyonnais" quality label. It guarantees that restaurants prepare their food in keeping with Lyon's traditions, and regularly serve the classic morning meal known as a "mâchon".

A UNESCO city

Lyon has been shaped by more than 2000 years of history. Each part of the city has a unique identity that reflects the city's development over the course of its history. Four historical districts were listed as UNESCO World Heritage sites in 1998, covering an area of 500 hectares.

Fourvière hill

Lyon's oldest hill guards the memory of Lugdunum, a major Roman city. As you walk through the theatres, you can imagine life in the ancient city. Standing proudly on top of the hill, the basilica of Fourvière amazes visitors with its richly decorated interior.

Outside, you can admire the stunning view from the esplanade, and stroll through the Jardins du Rosaire just below, a peaceful green space.

Vieux-Lyon

Nestled between Fourvière Hill and the River Saône, Vieux-Lyon (Old Lyon) has preserved all the charm of its Renaissance-period streets.

Step back into a time when Lyon hosted fairs that attracted visitors from all over Europe. The hidden traboules (passageways connecting two streets through a building) and inner courtyards hint at the wealth of their former owners.

Around the gothic-style Cathedral of Saint Jean, the district's lively streets are filled with restaurants and shops.

The Presqu'île

The heart of Lyon is on the peninsula between the Rhône and Saône, with its shopping streets and luxury boutiques.

From Place Bellecour, Europe's largest pedestrian square, to Place des Terreaux, lined by the City Hall and Museum of Fine Art, the district's nineteenth-century buildings reflect the lavish lifestyles of Lyon's bourgeoisie.

Its iconic landmarks and fountains are illuminated at night, offering a chance to see Lyon in a different light.

Croix-Rousse hill

Lyon's second hill has a long history with silk weaving as the home of the 'Canuts' (Lyon's former silk-workers), who helped make the city a major European centre of textiles. Visitors can explore its many 'traboules' (hidden passageways between streets) and stairways, as they discover the nineteenth-century buildings designed to hold weaving looms.

Past and present come together, with traditional silk workshop tours and shops run by young independent designers, who keep the spirit of the Canuts alive.

Today, silk-making remains a central part of Lyon's identity, and there are number of silk workshops where you can learn about nineteenth-century looms and buy authentic Lyonnais silk square scarves!

"Classic or modern, there is only one kind of cuisine... good cuisine."

Paul Bocuse

The title 'World Capital of Gastronomy' was given to the city in 1935 by Curnonsky, a renowned food critic, who said that the secret of Lyonnaise cuisine was to "leave the flavours of food intact."

Since then, Lyon has kept up its reputation, now offering a dizzying choice of 4000 restaurants, from street food to traditional brasseries, Michelin-starred restaurants and the city's famous bouchons.

Above all, Lyon owes its creativity, variety and quality to the abundance of neighbouring terroirs. Located at the crossroads of regions that produce poultry, game and fish, as well as fruits and vegetables, Lyon has drawn inspiration from local ingredients to create a generous, popular and inventive cuisine.

Chicken from Bresse, fish from La Dombes, cheeses from Auvergne, and fruits and vegetables from the Rhône Valley all play leading roles.

Surrounded by wine-producing regions, Lyon is lucky enough to have vintages that live up to its excellent cuisine. You will find Beaujolais, Côteaux du Lyonnais and Côtes du Rhône on menus everywhere in the city.

Les Mères lyonnaises

Lyon's gastronomic tradition owes much to female chefs known as the Mères Lyonnaises. After working for bourgeois families, in the late eighteenth century, they began to open up their own restaurants, serving homely food.

They returned to centre stage in the 1930s, a time of recession that saw many lose their positions working for the city's affluent families.

Serving Lyonnaise specialities and giving pride of place to regional produce, their restaurants rapidly established themselves as local institutions. The most famous among them, Mère Brazier, went so far as to become the first woman to achieve three stars in the Michelin Guide, for her two restaurants, in 1933!

Renowned chefs

As early as Roman times, the city of Lugdunum (as Lyon was then known) had a famous chef named Septimanus.

He was followed by many others. The Mères Lyonnaises took Lyon's gastronomic tradition into a new era. These enterprising women were also keen to pass down their knowledge. Mère Brazier's most well-known apprentice was none other than local legend Paul Bocuse!

Born in 1926 and deceased in 2018, Paul Bocuse left an indelible mark on Lyonnaise and French cuisine. He was named 'Chef of the Century' by Gault&Millau and helped Lyon shine on the world stage. With three stars in the Michelin Guide for more than 50 years, his restaurant Auberge de Collonges continues to draw gourmets from all over France and the world. It is celebrating its centenary in 2024.

Lyon is home to many big names, boasting 18 Michelin-starred restaurants in 2024. It is also a magnet for chefs from around the globe, who blend their influences with classic French cuisine and study at Institut Lyfe, founded by Paul Bocuse.

Vibrant creativity

The weight of tradition and major historical figures has not stifled the creativity of the new generation. Far from it! Chefs and pastry cooks are taking up the baton and offering creative, experimental and surprising cuisine, as they continue to build Lyon's global reputation.

Events like the Lyon Street Food Festival, which is held annually in June, offer a wealth of opportunities for big-name chefs to try fresh approaches. This gathering is France's leading food festival.

Throughout the year, the Cité Internationale de la Gastronomie (International City of Gastronomy) offers a whole programme of exhibitions and activities that promote gastronomy, its nutritional aspects and environmental challenges.

Lyon's bouchons

Proud defenders of Lyon's culinary tradition, Lyon's bouchons offer a dining experience like no other!

It is also said, though, that it originated in a service provided in these eateries: the verb 'bouchonner' means to rub down a horse with a 'bouchon' of straw.

Today, no stay in Lyon would be complete without a meal in a bouchon. In a warm, friendly atmosphere, take a seat and tuck into some Lyonnais specialities, as you soak up the local character and charm. Don't be surprised if the chef comes to your table to check if the dishes are to your taste!

Lyonnaise cuisine is built on generously served, homely dishes, made with simple, but quality ingredients. Traditionally, labourers and bosses would eat elbow-to-elbow during their breaks.

Some bouchons still serve a traditional morning meal known as the 'mâchon'.

Historically, it was eaten by Lyon's silk-workers early in the morning, after their first shift of the day was already done. It is made up of local specialities and charcuterie, served with regional wines.

Look out for the logo displayed by certified Bouchons Lyonnais!

This quality label guarantees that you will get traditional cuisine, made with fresh produce, and an authentic experience.

Find the list of certified bouchons on p. 69.

Lyon's markets

Held on the banks of the Saône, the market of Quai Saint-Antoine offers a lovely setting for a stroll by the river with a view of Fourvière hill. It is the perfect place to chat with passionate local producers and taste their wares!

On the Rhône side, the market of Quai Augagneur is held on the banks opposite the Grand Hôtel-Dieu building. Its busy stalls offer a profusion of flavours and colours!

Along Boulevard de la Croix-Rousse, on top of the hill of the same name, you will find Lyon's most iconic market. Held here since the mid-nineteenth century, this long-established market has been popular with local residents for generations.

A temple of Lyonnaise gastronomy, the vast indoor food market Halles de Lyon Paul Bocuse is home to more than 60 producers and restaurants. Exceptional regional produce can be found in this bustling market in the morning, where locals come to stock up for special occasions.

Take a seat at one of the many restaurants or oyster sellers at the end of the morning to enjoy a drink or a meal as you soak up the vibrant atmosphere!

If art and crafts is what you're after, make your way to Quai Romain Rolland on a Sunday morning, where you will find the Marché de la Création!

Find the markets on p. 101.

Things you must taste in Lyon

You may have heard of Lyon's reputation as the Capital of Gastronomy, but once you're seated at the table of a traditional Lyonnais bouchon, what should you order to get a unique and authentic experience of Lyonnais gastronomy?

– Do you have traditional tastes?

Here are the essentials of Lyonnaise cuisine!

Salade lyonnaise: a classic dish! Whet your appetite with this salad of lettuce leaves, hard-boiled egg, croutons and a generous sprinkling of lardons.

Pâté-croûte: this pâté in a pastry crust features various meats, including foie gras, calves' sweetbreads, chicken liver, and more.

Quenelle de brochet sauce Nantua: this is the iconic dish in Lyon! A quenelle is a dumpling made with milk, eggs, flour and butter. The most traditional version includes pike (brochet) and is covered in a Nantua shrimp sauce.

– Perhaps something more adventurous?

With tripe and offal, Lyonnaise cuisine offers plenty of surprises for the taste buds!

Gâteau de foie: try this soufflé made with chicken liver and coated in a tomato coulis.

Tête de veau sauce gribiche: this is a calf's head cut into pieces and cooked in a court-bouillon, served with an egg and mustard sauce.

Tablier de sapeur: this is made with calf's caul (membrane covering the intestine) marinated in wine, which is then breaded and deep-fried.

– Are you vegetarian?

Yes, you will find veggie options in Lyon!

Mention this when you arrive: the restaurant staff will do their best to adapt their offering.

Œufs en meurette: (ask for no lardons): Poached eggs cooked in red wine and onions.

Gratin de ravioles: Borrowed from the neighbouring region of Dauphiné, these ravioli are filled with cheese and herbs.

Cervelle de canuts: literally "silk-workers' brains"; don't worry though, this delicacy is a creamy soft cheese spread seasoned with garlic and herbs!

And treat yourself to a praline tart, a classic Lyonnais dessert made with pink pralines and almonds coated in caramelised sugar. All of this goes wonderfully with a 'pot Lyonnais', a 46 cl jug of Beaujolais, Côtes du Rhône or Côteaux du Lyonnais (to be enjoyed with moderation of course).

Our 5 tour recommendations

Lyon, 2000 years of history

The esplanade of Fourvière offers a magnificent uninterrupted view of Lyon. The basilica of Notre Dame built at the end of the 19th century, is a real eye-catcher.

Don't walk by without taking a look inside, because the interior is just as remarkable as the outside. Your walk then takes you down towards Old Lyon, either through the Rosaire gardens or via the Roman theatres.

At the bottom of the hill, the Renaissance town stretches out along the banks of the river Saône. Walk through a few of the narrow streets and the squares and delve into the "traboules" to discover hidden courtyards, galleries and wells.

Walking tour | 2 hrs or 3 hrs

Following history from Vieux-Lyon to Place des Terreaux

Lyon's historical quarter was listed as UNESCO World Heritage for its urban continuity from antiquity to the nineteenth century.

This tour illustrates how the city has evolved, revealing the changes and continuities in Lyon's architecture, from the Renaissance to the twentieth century.

From the cobbled streets of Vieux-Lyon (Old Lyon) to the Art Nouveau facades of the neighbourhood of La Martinière, relive Lyon's development in fast-forward!

Walking tour | 2hrs

Silk history

The Croix-Rousse district is known for its numerous stairways and passages, and boasts a rich past intimately related to Lyon's silk industry.

These "middlemen" played a commercial role in the business, providing the canuts with the raw materials they needed for the weaving process. As they lived mainly at the bottom of the slopes, the canuts had to walk down through the covered traboules to deliver the fruits of their labour, and to submit their fabric for inspection.

During a tour that will take you from the banks of the Rhône to the banks of the Saône, access the traboules during a visit accessible to all without stairs!

Walking tour | 2hrs

Confluence, the top of the peninsula

For a long time isolated, the tip of the peninsula district has been magnificently redeveloped and integrated into the town.

The main feature of the scheme is the Musée des Confluences. To discover the many facets of this complex and enigmatic architectural structure, cross the Rhône on the Raymond Barre bridge, and walk around the museum from its northern site. Once inside the museum, the exhibitions take visitors from east to west, from water to clouds, with some amazing views of Lyon along the way.

A walk through the park and along the path by the Saône to the Docks, offers various views of this strange vessel in the metallic surroundings of the former port. The museum's original architectural design alone is enough to warrant a visit.

Walking tour | 2 hrs ½ or 3 hrs

05

History of the Grand Hôtel-Dieu

The Grand Hôtel-Dieu reveals its spaces following large-scale renovation works that lasted four years.

From its foundation to its restoration, explore the building's five inner courtyards, which reveal its architectural evolution from the 17th to the 21st century, as well as its successive uses and future plans.

Now dedicated to leisure and open to the city, this historical monument has marked generations of Lyon's residents. Its imposing façade on the banks of the Rhône was originally designed to impress visitors arriving from the left bank. Relive the development of medicine through amazing anecdotes and the careers of great men contributed to the life of this iconic part of Lyon's identity.

Walking tour | 1 hr ½. This visit doesn't include access to the Chapel or the Grand Dôme.

Héritier d'une longue histoire dont l'origine a plus de 1000 ans, remarquablement conservé et rénové dans les règles de l'art pour correspondre aux critères de l'hôtellerie moderne, le château de Pizay se dresse au cœur du vignoble, les lignes pures de son architecture faisant écho à la rectitude des rangs de la vigne.

Boasting a long history dating back more than 1,000 years, Château de Pizay has been exceptionally well preserved and meticulously renovated to meet modern hotel standards. Located in the heart of the vineyards, the pure lines of its architecture resonate with the vertical symmetry of the rows of grapevines.
